

ninety-five

What DID YOU do?
?

THORNBRED

~~~~~

1994 Thorobred

418 Hathaway Hall
Kentucky State University
Frankfort, Kentucky 40601

In Loving Memory

Mareia Vontress "Kandi" Minnis passed away on June 12 after a short illness. Minnis, 40, had been employed at KSU for the past ten years, and in April of 1993 she was selected as employee of the month. Minnis was a member of the Capital City Seven-Day Adventist Church, Sabbath School Superintendent, Adventist Youth Society Leader, Community Services Department, Vacation Bible School Leader and Usher.

CONTENTS

Student Life	4
expect the unexpected
Organizations	18
expect to belong
Academics	38
expect to excel
Sports	58
expect to cheer
Faculty	84
expect to lead
Students	98
expect someone to remember
Closing	140
expect to reflect

Expect

the unexpected

When we hear the words "student Life" we usually tend to associate the term with academics, partying or both. Here at Kentucky State University, we believe that there is much more to student life. Student life is made up of several elements such as friendships, dorm life, school pride, and challenging school work. It is the unplanned, the unexpected events that make this campus student life complete. It is these factors and more that should make every student at Kentucky State University expect the unexpected.

STUDENT LIFE

Students busy working on the newspaper and the yearbook.

Top Left: Ms. Reid working behind the desk of Kentucky Hall.

Top Right: Wendy forgetting where the bathroom is.

Bottom Left: After a long Saturday night, nothing soothes the soul like a good game of Sega.

Bottom Right: Celestia in a rush to get to her room after coming from Central State.

The Marriott

The food source on our campus for the past couple of years has been the Marriott! Students can dine in the friendly confines of Underwood Cafeteria or the Thorobred Corral.

"The dining atmosphere and the variety of the food here is much better than at my last school(Mississippi Valley State)" said Juan Martin.

The manager, Darrin Logan, has said that Kentucky State is different than any school that he has worked.

"What makes KSU so unique is the fact that the students are very particular about their food. This keeps us on our toes."

The Marriott caters and openly welcomes suggestions to make them better prepared to serve.

Top Left: Darrin making sure the food is served right.
 Middle: "Girl, did you try those wings!"
 Right: Grill Master frying hamburgers.

Left: Grill Master showing us his special techniques.
 Bottom Left: Cafeteria workers preparing the salad bar.
 Bottom Right: The woman behind the DELICIOUS desserts!

Just Another Day

Above: The most important class of the day.
Middle Right: Students figuring out how to spend the rest of their day.
Bottom Right: Mrs. Taylor taking a student's lunch card.

In The Neighborhood

Above: Coach Hunt going over plays with the football team.
Right: The men of Kappa Kappa Psi showing us the Loose Neck.

Top Left: Student studies for class while talking on the phone.

Above: "You would come while I'm trying to clean."

Top Right: Mr. Britton is the head man in charge.

Right: Student takes time to get his sleep on.

Top Left: "Just go away, I don't want to get up!"

Left: Student is saving her money by putting her own perm in.

Top Right: Student is doing the right thing by getting those clothes clean.

Above: Members of the football team resting before a long road trip.

Commuter Students

Top Right: Terri Cox and friends pass time before their next class.

Top Left: Advertisement Representative, Terri Cox, talks to more commuter students.

Bottom Right: Jesse Brooks and fellow students are gossiping between classes.

Bottom Left: Hosea Williams rolling to his apartment in Hickory Hills.

Top Left: Marcus Wilson riding his bike from class.
 Middle Left: Leroy Smith and Tom Cockley.
 Bottom Left: Two KSU students resting from last night's party.
 Above: Student beginning to make the journey to Young Hall.

Below: Mr. Little says no don't take my picture today.

Far below: All-American, wide receiver Eric Alford, has to do a little conditioning every once in a while.

Top right: Student wants to know if we can help him find this book.

Bottom right: Members of the tennis team take a break during fall practice.

Miss. Kentucky State University

Miss Alexia Jamell Ellis, a senior elementary education major from Cincinnati, Ohio is the proud daughter of Alex Ellis and Gloria Bradford Ellis. Upon arriving at Kentucky State University in the fall of 1991, she participated in volleyball and was a member of the school play. She is also a member of the Student Ambassador Organization, the Student Alumni Organization and has served as a senator for the past three years. She has been recognized as being a National Collegiate Education Award Winner, the National College Deans List, and was selected Who's Who Among Colleges and Universities. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated and lives by the scripture in Proverbs 3:5-6, "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart and lean not to thine own understanding, in all thy ways acknowledge him and he shall direct the path."

First Attendant to Miss KSU

Miss Tisha LaNe'y Norman, a senior elementary education major, minoring in fine arts and humanities from Cleveland, Ohio, is the proud daughter of Patricia Norman and Clem Norman. She has been on the National Dean's List and a National Collegiate Student Government Award Winner. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated and actively participates in the Traveling and Show Choirs.

Second Attendant to Miss KSU

Miss Asha Raziya Dailey, a senior mathematics education major from Fairfield, Alabama, is the daughter of McArthur and Beverly Dailey. She has participated in Gospel Ensemble, Concert Choir, NAACP, Baptist Student Union, Lady Diamond Social Club, and the distinguished Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Incorporated. Asha currently serves as President of the Senior Class.

1994 Miss Kentucky State University Court.

Mr. Kentucky State University

Mr. Christopher Todd Sanders, a senior elementary education major, is the third child of Mr. and Mrs. Willie and Jerlene Sanders of Toledo, Ohio. His matriculation tenure at Kentucky State University has been accented and highlighted with such academic honors as a dean's list student and academic all-american. He has participated in several noteworthy activities. Namely, the men's track and field team, volunteer Big Brother, second vice-president of the Student Government Association, and as the president of Kentucky State University Psi Psi Chapter of Omega Psi Phi for two consecutive years.

First Attendant to Mr. KSU

Born the proud son of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, he is a native of Dayton, Ohio. He is a senior majoring in music education. He is an active participant in both the Concert and Traveling Choirs.

Above right the 1994 Mr. and Miss Kentucky State University court.(Photo minus Deon Curry.)

Above the king, Christopher T. Sanders, after being crowned.

Far right Chris poses for pictures after the coronation.

Right the 1994 Mr. and Miss Kentucky State University.

One last look at the 1994 homecoming coronation of Mr. and Miss Kentucky State University.

The theme of this glorious occasion was "Where there is unity, there is strength." This 65th Coronation of Mr. and Miss Kentucky State University took place at the Civic Center on Friday, the 21st of October, 1994 at eight o' clock in the evening.

Expect

to belong

When you think of student organizations, what comes to mind? The modern dictionary defines an organization as any unified, consolidated group of elements that are systematized whole. There are several organizations on this campus each having its own distinction and mission. Our organizations are very vocal and active on campus and in the community as well. The food drives, seminars, nursing home visits and Adopt-a-Highway projects are just a few of the things that make our organizations special. The rich traditions that some of our organizations have and the pride displayed by members of these organizations today makes each person EXPECT TO BELONG.

ORGANIZATIONS

TBS

The Zeta Rho Chapter of Tau Beta Sigma performs its duties with the motto firmly in mind: "For Better Bands." This honorary sorority serves the band by providing leadership that helps make the marching and symphonic bands at KSU sound fantastic. Under the guidance of president Denille Epps and sponsor Dr. Barry Johnson, Sr., Tau Beta Sigma has diligently raised the awareness of the band. Tau Beta Sigma organizes young members of the band into productive, confident leaders of tomorrow. Photographed above are members: Cynthia Anderson, Yolanda Cole, Tabitha Crosby, Shannon Winston, Denille Epps, and Advisor Barry Johnson, Sr.

GOSPEL ENSEMBLE

KKΨ

The Iota Mu Chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi works diligently with their sisters of Tau Beta Sigma to raise better band awareness. The members in this photo are: Hosea Williams, Brian Hale, Julian Sams, Zane English, and Tony McKisick.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS ASSOCIATION

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Jai Gilliam, Mr. Junior, Nyemah Stark, Senaror, Angela Holmes, President, Tracey Bush, Vice-President

SOPHOMORE CLASS OFFICERS

Omega Psi Phi

Majestic Psi Psi Chapter

Omega Psi Phi Fraternity was founded on November 17, 1911, at Howard University in Washington, D.C. The Psi Psi Chapter at Kentucky State University was founded on November 9, 1934. Its purpose is to racially uplift through cultural achievement and inspiration.

The following men make up the Psi Psi Chapter: Mark Battle, George Brown, Thomas Cheatham, Brian Galloway, Damon Grinter, Steven McClain, Virgil Parr, Rod Russell, Chris Sanders, Sean Stevenson, and Corey Wilson.

Above: Mark Battle, Sean Stevenson, Brian Galloway, and Rod Russell take a moment to pose for the yearbook.

Left: The brothers getting together on the weekend for a cookout.

Below: Steven McClain and another brother after a party.

Ω Ψ
Φ

Alpha Kappa Alpha

Beta Zeta Chapter

The Sorority, established at Howard University, Washington D.C. in 1908, is the oldest black sorority in the nation. It is a service organization established to assist girls and women in the attainment of social, economic, and educational equity. Its major projects have included the national health projects, particularly the Delta Mississippi Health Project; the establishment of a Job Corps Center in Cleveland, Ohio, the only Job Corps Center operated by a women's organization; support to sickle cell anemia research; contributions to HBCU's, the NAACP, and the Urban League; the establishment of water wells in Africa and the adoption of schools in Africa. The current focus is on the recruitment and education of more minority students in programs of science and mathematics.

Earlene Bedford, Maria Berry, Vanessa Blanton, Chauntel Brown, Tracey Bush, Michele Coleman, Tihisha Coleman, LaBarbara Cook, Charisetta Dangerfield, Tanesha Denmark, Alexia Ellis, Gyp Gallardo, Tonya Givens, Angelle Greene, Natasha Lofton, LaTheresa King, Artavia Marshall, Natos Massey, Marsha McDonald, Talja McDonald, Alicia Mills, Lashonda Moore, Tisha Norman, Devau Pardon, Michelle Payne, Antoinette Perkins, Karna Potter, Jennifer Powell, Cassandra Robins, Yolanda Rogers, Vada Shelton, Carmon Thompson, Dechelle Tisdale, Karen Tyson, Kim Wallac, Nicole Watkins, Darretta Williams, Advisor Dr. Leola Travis.

Above: Some sorors gathered in the cafeteria around a cake.

Above Right: Sorors Watkins, Moore, Berry, Potter, Norman, Massey working their table in Bell Gym.

Far Right: Sorors Ellis, Watkins, Berry, Rogers and Norman pause for a snapshot in the student center.

Left: Some of the sorors skee-weeing and supporting the basketball 'breds.

Bottom: Soror McDonald and sands posing in the student center.

Left: Sorors Ellis and Gallardo caught in the student center lounge.
Above: These Sorors stopped to take a picture before they ate at the Pan Hellenic Council Social in the Student Center Ballroom.

Above Right: These Sorors showing their support of the men of Alpha Phi Alpha at their founder's day banquet.

Below Right: It didn't take the sorors long to find their spot on campus to step and sing.

Below: Some more of Beta Zeta's finest posing for the yearbook.

Alpha Phi Alpha

Beta Mu Chapter

Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc. Was founded December 4, 1906 at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York. It is the first of all Greek letter organizations. Their objectives are scholarships, uplift of the race, manly deeds and respect for womanhood. Beta Mu "Strong Arm" Chapter was founded April 28, 1932 by Hewy Arthur Merchant and Frank Stanley Jr. The organization strongly thrives today and is proud of never having been off the campus for academic or disciplinary reasons.

The men that make up Beta Mu are as follows:(left to right)Fred Price, David Hagler, Dewayne Davis, Eric Dunigan, Alan Glover, Miss Alpha, Stephanie Esters, Marvin Ham, Tyson Brooks, Wesley Mays, Lamont Brown, Sean Taylor, (kneeling)Nerrick Jackson, Josh Tallson(not pictured)Michael Anderson, David Bradley, George Cosby, Eddie Jones, Glynn McCary, Che'Snelling, Kent Sutton, Delmar Visor, Davie Wright and Advisor Dr. Albert Walker.

The 1994 Homecoming step-show team before the show without leader Josh Tallson.

The men of Alpha Phi Alpha taking the stage at homecoming.

Top left: Marvin, Eddie, and Kent are about to get into something.

Middle left: The men of the Beta Mu Chapter are working out at their annual car wash.

Bottom left: The brothers were in a hurry to get out the door.

Below: The men of Alpha Phi Alpha showing their support of the football team at a home game.

ΑΦΑ

Delta Sigma Theta

Alpha Pi Chapter

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Incorporated was founded on January 13, 1913, at Howard University in Washington D.C. The Alpha Pi Chapter at Kentucky State University was founded in April of 1934. The sorority symbolizes a union of women of like ideals, potentialities, and attainments and helps promote social and racial betterment.

The ladies of the Alpha Pi Chapter are as follows: Juana Agnew, Stephanie Allen, Ronica Coleman, Asha Dalley, Abeni El-Amin, Maronica Freed, Latoyia Griffin, Karla Hampton, Kendra Lewis, Nicole Mitchell, Elizabeth Moorman, Tiffany Montgomery, Schnell Reed, Denise Richardson, Dalauna Sutton, Tish'chara Ursery, Nijala Wilkerson, Jamila Williams, Kim Woodard. Advisor Penny McClain

The ladies of Deep Cover Ooping at the flagpole.

Soror Freed is working it out in the middle.

Far Right: The sisters of Delta Sigma Theta get together to sing and step once a week on the yard.

Right: The ladies of the Alpha Pi Chapter are always ready to make those pyramids for a picture.

Above Left: The Sorors are happy to be at the 60th year anniversary for the Alpha Pi Chapter.
Left: Some of the ladies who were in attendance at the Delta and Omega Cabaret.
Below: The Sorors are doing their thing at the flag pole once again-Ooop,Ooop.

Above Left: Sorors Woodard and Richardson are keeping people from getting too much food at the back-to-school cookout.
Left: Soror Richardson is helping a freshman pick the right professor at registration.
Above: Sorors Walker and Dalley giving a helping hand by preparing the drinks at the cookout sponsored by the Delta's, Kappa's, and Housing.

ΔΣΘ

Zeta Phi Beta

Eta Alpha Chapter

Zeta Phi Beta Sorority was founded at Howard University in Washington, D.C. on January 16, 1920. It was the idea of the five founding sisters of Zeta Phi Beta to reach college women with a desire to follow the idea of finer womanhood, scholarship, service, and sisterly love. The Eta Alpha Chapter here at Kentucky State University was founded in 1974 and the eleven current chapter members keep their founders' dream alive through community service projects like Adopt-a-Highway, AIDS Awareness, Adopt-a-family, Project Literacy, and the Stork Nest.

The members of the Eta Alpha Chapter are as follows: NeKiya Baker, Quilla Barnes, Tonya Bland, LaShawn Cook, Catrina Davis, Dawn Greene, Angie Johnson, LaTonya McGhee, Kristie Powe, Tashawa Reaves, Taniesha Robinson.

Right: Some members of the Eta Alpha Chapter and some visiting sisters.

ZΦB

Tashawa Reaves, Kristie Powe, and Dawn Greene before the 1994 homecoming stepshow.

Above: Some Sorors happy about winning first place in that year's stepshow.

Left: Nekiya Baker and Quilla Barnes took a trip to the University of Alabama.

ZΦB

Phi Beta Sigma

Xi Lambda Chapter

The youngest of Negro Greek-Letter Fraternities was founded October 8, 1914. It promotes its aims of Brotherhood, Scholarship, and Service through carefully selected men of high character.

Xi Lambda Chapter of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity was established at Kentucky State College, April 1, 1935. It was inactivated during World War II and re-activated December 5, 1947.

The Pledge Club of this Fraternity is the Crescent Club. Its purpose is to bring about wholesome and developed material for the Fraternity.

The members of the Xi Lambda Chapter are as follows: Fernando Patterson, Shawn Starks, Jerome Costner, Scott Jones, Ramon Johnson, Scott Morton, Brian Prentice, Demond Cherry, Elgin Smith, Rodney Gary, Reginald Wells, Jermaine Boyd, and Corey Hicks.

Above: Brothers Elgin Smith and Corey Hicks shown here in front of the $\phi\beta\sigma$ display table.

Right: Ken James is proud to now be an alumnus of the Xi Lambda Chapter.

Blue Phi

Left: Some chapter members with a chapter charter line member, Brother Dr. Henry E. Cheaney. Dr. Cheaney is Kentucky State University's Alumnus of the Century.

Above left: Just a few of the sharp men of Phi Beta Sigma.
Above: Chapter Advisor, Kim Goodloe, and some of the chapter members shown roadtripping.
Left: Some Sigma men after an event in Bell Gym on campus.

ΦΒΣ

Kappa Alpha Psi

Alpha Upsilon Chapter

Kappa Alpha Psi, a college fraternity, now comprised of functioning undergraduate and alumni chapters on major campuses and in cities throughout the country, is the crystallization of a dream. A dream shared by ten men who established this great fraternity on January 5, 1911, on the campus of Indiana University in Bloomington, Indiana. The Alpha Upsilon Chapter at Kentucky State University was founded on March 1, 1935, with a vision of moving steadily towards a tomorrow of promise, productivity, and influence. Carrying the torch of this vision today are members Larmarous Shirley, Quincy Jones, Al Lockett, Rodney Avery, Kelth Griffin, Dave Brown, Hilton Isable, Omar Dillard, Juan Martin, Eric Simmons, Terrill Cook, and Chapter Advisor, Roger Williams.

KΑΨ

Those Nupes passing the kane in the stepshow.

The distinguished men of $\kappa\alpha\psi$'s intro into the stepshow.

Above left: It's the Skandalous Seven's anniversary and sands still haven't dissolved.

Above: Kardiak Arrest and Suger Bear are about to jump on Chuck for being gone so long.

Below left: Those Pretty Boyz are up to it again on Thursday, shown here after lunch.

$\Phi\Nu\Pi$

Sigma Gamma Rho

Lambda Chapter

Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Inc. was founded by seven school teachers on November 12, 1922, on the campus of Butler University in Indianapolis, Indiana. Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority is a nonprofit organization and does plenty on community service. This organizations purpose is expressed in it's slogan: "Greater Service, Greater Progress."

The Lambda Chapter at Kentucky State University was founded on April 15, 1947 and is still going strong today. The members of the Lambda Chapter are: Cutina Willis, Ingrid Payne, Alvenla Anderson, Stacy Henderson, Cynthia Anderson, Neta Hamilton, and Rolanda Bolen.

Sorors Anderson and Payne are visiting some other Sorors.

Sorors Willis and Payne are putting the final touches on the float before the parade.

Some of the members of Lamda Chapter looking very nice in some formal attire.

Clockwise from above: Some Sorors posing for pictures in the student center green room.

These ladies enjoying themselves in our cafeteria.

Sorors from Kentucky State and the University of Louisville posing for some pictures.

Sorors Moore, Hurst, and Johnson are proud to be alumnae, shown here with Ann and Alvenia.

Sorors just hanging out at someone's apartment.

ΣΓΡ

Expect

to excel

When we hear the word academics we usually tend to associate the term with classes, books, lectures, homework and tests. Kentucky State University is very proud to offer ten facilities for academic advancement to our traditional and non-traditional students. An academic attraction to Kentucky State University is the classroom size, which allows students to receive individualized attention. This and other factors can make students when it comes to academics to expect to excel.

ACADEMICS

Distinguished Professor Recipient

Dr. James A. Graves was the recipient of the 1993-1994 Distinguished Professor Award which is given annually at the Honors Convocation. From 1972-1977, he served as the Chair of the Graduate Council, and was the Dean of the School of Public Affairs here at Kentucky State University. From 1978-1983, he served the university as a professor in the Behavioral and Social Sciences Division. In 1983, he added the responsibility of being the Dean of the School of Public Affairs to his record. From 1986 until today, he served as a professor and coordinator of Political Science.

Dr. Graves believes that a student must master and interpret theories and principles as well as applied and current applications. He feels that this approach will encourage as well as stress student participation, interaction and field work projects.

Dr. Graves has published numerous papers and articles that have appeared in local newspapers and national magazines. He served as the United States Air Force Liaison Officer for the Commonwealth of Kentucky, has been a member of the Kentucky Government Council, and was one of three persons selected by NASPAA (National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration) to testify before the U.S. House of Representatives Committee on Appropriations in support of Title IX-Public Service Career Education in Washington, D.C.

During the past twenty-five years, he has been the grant writer, project director and/or coordinator of $1,339,441 in outside money received by Kentucky State University.

He is a past United States Air Force Lieutenant in personnel and administrative services. He also has had memberships in the Academy of Political Science, American Management Association, Rotary International, and many others.

To say the least, he is a very respected person who has accomplished many things already and is still going strong.

Alpha Kappa Mu

Above left to right: Denise Richardson, Josh Talison, Shawnee Roddy, Talja McDonald, Dwayne Zimmerman, Lori Lindsey, Rolanda Bolen, Advisor Alvin Sobh.

The Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society is made up of traditional and non-traditional students who have displayed and maintained a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or better. An additional requirement for membership is that you are either a junior or senior. The new members are usually inducted into this organization in the spring.

Left: Josh Talison shown here after an awards program in the student center. Josh is a senior, elementary education major, from Detroit, Michigan. He is member of Alpha Kappa Mu and a four year member of the football team. He was the January 1993, student of the month and later that semester was initiated into the Beta Mn Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc.

Academic Team

The 1993-1994 Academic Team of Kentucky State University is certainly one of its crown academic gems. Under the guidance of coach James Britton and assistant coach Zoe Britton, this close-knit family has attained one of the Honda Campus All-Star Challenge's National Final 12 slots. Also, the team was in the top third of the Southeast Sectionals, held at North Carolina in March on 1994. The talented individuals comprising the team are Cory Brown, captain, Reginald Davis, Latrelle Prater, Gerold Bezold, Sharon Sutherland, and Shannon Winston. For the upcoming year the team has high aspirations to do as well or better than last year. Good Luck!

Photographed above from left to right are: Reginald Davis, Shannon Winston, Corey Brown, Zoe Britton, and James Britton.

Whitney Young Student Council

The Whitney Young Student Council is made up of students are in the program and they help the professors whenever they needed. Led by council President, Michael Jenkins, they are really looking forward to increasing membership in the the Whitney Young College and to the council as well.

Endowed Chair

An endowed chair is the most prestigious academic appointment that can be made by a university. The creation of such a position marks a high level of maturity of the institution, for it demonstrates the importance of scholarly activity and a commitment to supporting that kind of activity, and it reflects the reputation of the institution.

Recognizing these facts, in 1986 the Commonwealth of Kentucky set aside two million dollars to fund a total of four such chairs. A state-wide competition was held to determine which institutions would be granted these positions and given $500,000.00 apiece toward their endowments. There were two major criteria considered: the strength of the institution's proposals and a matching of the state's contribution to the endowment. Kentucky State University proposed the establishment of a University Endowed Chair in the Humanities as an extension, enhancement, and major component of the university's liberal studies mission. This is in keeping with the fact that Kentucky State University is a national leader in addressing the kinds of issues surrounding liberal studies education; the Chair is allied with KSU's unique Institute for Liberal Studies. In addition, the University secured substantial grants from the Robert R. Moten Memorial Institute, the James Graham Brown Foundation, the Charles Stuart Mott Foundation, and the Gheens Foundation.

On a symbolic level, the Endowed Chair represents a milestone in the development of Kentucky State University, for the existence of an endowed chair on a campus is still a rarity and something to be proud of, a sign of prestige and status. Because KSU's Endowed Chair is symbolic of the support for the study of the liberal arts by the Commonwealth of Kentucky, several private foundations, and the University itself, and, since it is designated as a University-wide position, a factor important enough to be emphasized in the very title of the position, it thus symbolically represents all of the faculty at the University. The implementation of the Chair indicates that KSU faculty are valued both for their teaching activities and for their scholarly endeavors. At the same time, the Endowed Chair serves as a role model and as an advisor for faculty members who may utilize the Chair's expertise and experience in his or her twin functions as a teacher/scholar.

An endowed chair's function involves the University's two primary areas. First, the professor serves as a master teacher. This means that the holder of the chair is expected to offer courses to students that they would not otherwise take because of insufficient resources or because there are no faculty prepared to teach a particular subject— in other words, to help expand the students's curricular options. Many of the classes taught, therefore, are not expected to carry large enrollments or to be taught on a regular basis. Still, if a course proves especially successful, it can be included in the curriculum so that other faculty can teach it. The possibility of developing interdisciplinary or team-taught courses is also enhanced by virtue of the experimental nature of these classes. Similarly, since the courses are limited in enrollment and not always specifically required for graduation, some experimentation with teaching techniques is anticipated, so it is possible that an effective technique will be developed in one of these courses which can be utilized by other faculty.

Second, the endowed chair is an acclaimed scholar who is expected to continue working on scholarly projects in his or her area of expertise and is provided the time, financial backing, and other support services necessary to do so. Through research the University can achieve national significance. Indeed, this is demonstrated by the fact that ongoing research constitutes fifty percent of the Chair's assignment.

In 1988, Dr. Steven H. Gale was appointed as the first University Endowed Chair in the Humanities. Dr. Gale has been recognized as an outstanding teacher, and he is a world-renowned authority on the works of contemporary British dramatist Harold Pinter and twentieth-century American humorist S.J. Perelman. He has also published a great number of books and articles on American, English, European, and African literatures on drama, film, humor, and folktales, and on teaching and composition studies. Professor Gale is actively engaged in professional matters on both national and international levels as an officer in learned societies, as a journal and book series editor, and as a consultant. Dr. Gale is assisted by Lisa Gayle Brown, administrative secretary, and Kim Bales, work-study student.

College of Arts & Sciences

The College of Arts & Sciences is the largest of the five constituent Colleges of the University. The Dean is the chief academic and administrative officer for the College of Arts and Sciences, whose faculty are organized by academic areas: Behavioral and Social Sciences; Fine Arts; Literature, Languages and Philosophy; and Mathematics and Sciences. The College offers a variety of undergraduate degrees in the liberal arts and sciences, minor concentrations are also available.

Mr. Johnson's lecture today is coming from his examples on the board.

Right: Senior Louis "Moma" Milligan is showing us that he did his homework last night. Louis is an elementary education major from Hopkinsville, Kentucky, and also serves as a resident assistant in McCullin Hall.

Below right: These non-traditional students are happy that this class is over with.

The primary objective of the College is to provide an environment that is conducive to the discovery and dissemination of knowledge, to the intellectual, cultural, and ethical growth of students, and to professional development of the faculty. Students can major in the following: Applied Mathematics, Art, Biology, Clinical Laboratory Sciences, Chemistry, English, History, Liberal Studies, Mathematics, Music Performance, Political Sciences, Psychology, and Sociology.

Dr. Neville Morgan is the Dean of the College with Dr. Jerry Trammell serving as the Assistant to the Dean. Dr. Dinker Patel is the Acting Chair, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences; Dr. Roosevelt Shelton is the Chair of the Fine Arts Department. Dr. George Shields is the Chair of the Literature, Languages, and Philosophy Department; Dr. Paul Bibbins is the Chair of the Mathematics and Sciences Department.

Left: Ms. Jenkins' biology class is examining fetal pigs and she is making sure that they do it right.

Left: Senior Shannon Starks is cutting deep into her fetal pig.
Above: This student is not afraid to touch his pig without gloves on!!!

School of Business

The School of Business at Kentucky State University prepares men and women for business careers that require the knowledge and decision-making skills necessary for success in our dynamic and complex global economy. The curriculum's strong liberal studies component, highly valued by the business community, provides students with a firm foundation for their future careers and lifelong learning.

The School of Business is fully accredited by the Association of Collegiate Business Schools and Programs (ACBSP), and is the only business school currently accredited by the ACBSP in Kentucky. The School of Business offers academic programs leading to a baccalaureate degree in Business Administration with five areas of specialization: Accounting, Business Administration, Economics, Management, and Marketing.

Christy Roberts, School of Business Secretary, is not having a good day and Dean Lee is still bringing her more requisitions to type.

The artwork of the computer is just minute compared to the new computers that have been installed in the school of business computer lab.

This is an outside shot of Bradford Hall, where the majority of the School of Business classes are taught.

School of Business

The School of Business has a rich pool of human and physical resources, facilities, and computer laboratories to provide a stimulating business training environment. The key to those resources is the knowledgeable and dedicated faculty members who are committed to providing quality instruction to students.

The full-time professors are Dr. Dae Sung Lee, Dean, Dr. Utpal Bose, Ken Bryant, Dr. Jay Close, Rick Conley, Dr. Maury Granger, Dr. Richard Irvine, Debbie Jones, Dr. Jerome Krueger, Dr. Chaewon Park, Dr. Sharon Parrish, Jack Pramuk, Dave Rich, Dr. Jean Smith, Joel Sokoloff.

The part-time professors are Dr. Gus Ridgel, Dr. Leola Travis, Reginald Thomas, and Gerald Pierce.

The staff members are Christy Roberts and Karen Gossett.

A new face to the School of Business staff this school year is Dr. Maury Granger. Dr. Granger did his under graduate work at the University of Louisville. He then received his doctorate from the University of Kentucky. He is a man that is always on the move, but still loves to spend time with students to make sure that they learn the lesson from the academic book and a lesson in life as well. He teaches Economics and Money and Banking here at Kentucky State University. He is shown in these two photos lecturing to his Principles of Economics class.

School of Business

Top right: Mr. Rich refused to do the spit tank for class so he went ahead with his lecture.

Right: Nerrick Jackson is paying close attention to the lecture.

Lower right: Business majors Yolanda Rogers and Schnell Reed are happy to be done with classes for the week.

School of Business

Left: Tommy D. is looking for the answer in corporate finance.

Above: Senior Cassandra Thomas is taking good notes.

Left: Terrell Cook is thinking "Man I should have studied for this test."

Aquaculture

The aquaculture research laboratory is one of the university's hidden secrets. It is located beside the Thoroughbred baseball field and serves the university well. It is the only aquaculture research program in the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

The newest face on the Board of Regents is Mr. Curtis Sullivan. He is an alumnus of this university and currently resides in Bowling Green, Kentucky. He is shown visiting the aquaculture research facility in these pictures.

Mr. Anthony Howard is talking with some research employees while showing Regent Sullivan around.

Above: Regent Sullivan is shown here with Mr. Beecham and a university staff member. Right: Curtis and Anthony look again for the last time before they leave.

Blazer Library

Left: This is Blazer from the outside and inside is everything that a student needs to get ahead academically.

Below: Mackey has found article that he needs for his report.

Above: These students are taking advantage of the brain in the library.

Left: Christine is passing time waiting for Michael to get of work.

Career Fair

Every year the Counseling and Placement Department sponsors the career fair. It is usually held in October in Bell Gymnasium. This year was no exception as more than fifty companies set up booths and interviewed some of our students. The fair gets bigger and better every year.

Above and Right: 1994 Kentucky State University Graduate, Lacy Rice, is back recruiting for his employer Kroger for management trainee positions. He is talking with Craig Richards who will be graduating in May of 1995. Craig is a Senior, Business Administration major from Dayton, Ohio.

Right: This student was fortunate enough to get an interview.

Career Fair

Top left: Chris Gray is stopped by a Marine recruiter.
Left: Talja McDonald and Greg Montgomery are attracted to this bank's booth.
Above: This student finds this booth of particular interest.

Career Fair

Rodney Hardin, a 1994 graduate, is back at this year's career fair as a recruiter for Huntington Banks.

Right: This booth kept a long line of students at the career fair.

Below: This student is doing the right thing at this event by leaving his address with a potential employer.

Registration

This semester marked the beginning of a new era here at Kentucky State University. The registration process was moved into the new Exum Facility which was more convenient because it allowed the students to have more room to get to their lines, and gave them a chance to get everything done much faster.

Left: Tyrone Boyd is receiving advice from his advisor on what classes to take this semester.

Bottom left: Cartie Morris is aiding a student in a class change.

Below: Financial Aid Director Carmella Conner was very busy during registration.

Right: Jackson Hall is one of the University's oldest buildings.

Above: Fred Graham is donating blood for testing for bone marrow matching. People with matches are potential transplant donors.

Right: A student is giving blood to help someone who is in need.

Above: The Health and Physical Education Department's finest students knew it was picture day.

Left: Students on their way to class.

Bottom Left: Mt. and Miss Kentucky State University 1994-95 walking to class together.

Bottom: Alexia, Ann, and Chris are studying on the yard.

Expect

to cheer

At Kentucky State University we are fortunate to have varsity level athletic programs that are able to participate on a collegiate level. We are even prouder to be the home of some all-Americans returning this year to wear the green and gold like Sean Stevenson and Eric Alford on the football field; likewise, Corey Hicks a possible future Olympic participant will be returning on the track. The additions on some coaching staffs will overcome the losses and it is up to us to support the Thorobreds and expect to cheer.

SPORTS

Thorobred Baseball

Members of the 1994 Thorobred Baseball team are as follows; Bobby McDermott, Bryce Page, Kevin Britt, Brian Adler, Todd White, Shawn Starks, Mike Jackson, Scott Holler, Eric Stone, Steve Sutton, Andy Andre', Leo Niemeier, Marvin Hardy, Brian Anderson, Justin Buford, Leon Leavell, Bryan Bond, Romero Pratt, Chris Morris, William Coleman, Mike Hockensmith.

The 1995 Thorobred Baseball Team's success will depend on the strength of its pitching staff. Coach Braden has 8-11 guys who he can turn call on to pitch. He reminds us that some of the guys are young but with some experience he feels that his squad could be one of the best he has ever coached. "The one thing about this group is that they come out daily and work real hard. These guys may look deceiving but they can flat out play," Coach Braden commented.

Right and Below: Coach Braden is working with sophomore pitcher/shortstop Leon Leavell.

Top: Shortstop Todd White from Leitchfield, Kentucky is throwing pitches in the batters cage.

Middle Left: Former Thorobred pitcher, now assistant, Steve Sutton takes time to help correct this player's technique.

Above: Senior Brian Adler from New Port Richey, Florida will be counted on for leadership and performance from the third base position.

Left: This rookie has a long way to go with the bat, but can blaze a fastball right by you.

Thorobrette Softball

The 1993-1994 Thorobrette softball campaign experienced some difficulties at times. This year's team promises to better with some let-terms returning with the addition of many talented freshmen. Coach Oscar Downs (pictured above) will lead this group of young women on the field once again.

Top right: LaShrenta Hewlett, playing shortstop, jumps for the ball that barely gets by her glove.

Far right: LaShrenta makes a play and is going home with the ball.

Right: Katrina Richardson is about to tag this player out from the other team.

Top left: This Thorobrette just returned a Northern Kentucky pitch into the outfield.
 Above left: Our pitcher delivers another one right down the middle.
 Above: This Thorobrette is contemplating stealing second base.
 Left: This player has just hit a pop-fly foul ball WATCH OUT!

Thorobred Football

The Thorobreds are looking for a few good men, a general and some warriors that will go to battle for the Breds this coming season. The general being the quarterback and the warriors being the interior linemen that will lead the charge.

A schedule of eleven games, with seven of those being on the road, creates some problems for third year head coach Maurice "Mo" Hunt and his coaching staff.

The Thorobreds need help and depth in many areas, especially in the offensive and defensive line — linebacker — quarterback and outside speed in the backfield.

With the possible loss of Jeff LaMar, last year's leading rusher along with quarterbacks Tyrone Coker and Hilton Isable, Coach Hunt and his staff are concerned to say the least, however the recruitment class of quarterbacks that will report for pre-season practice looks real good, along with senior running backs Omar Dillard, Torrando Station, Ramon Johnson, Tyrice Jackson, and Corey Dickerson may help ease the pain as they compete for the starting running back positions. Transfer Adrian Beard is also considered to be a contender.

The shining spot on offense are the receivers, with senior All-American candidate Sean Stevenson and Eric Alford who both combined for over 1000 yards catching and 9 touchdowns in 1993. Some additional help should come from Garrick Edison, Damon Grinter, Xenos Sharpe, and Waitus Carter.

Now for the big guys, the offensive line has size but lacks depth and experience, with lone senior Walter High returning. So the Breds will have to bank on sophomores, who gained valuable experience last year. Vashon Covington, Henry Trowell, David Adamson, Arthur Tutwiller, Rolando Calhoun, and Michael Evans.

On defense the Breds led all Division II colleges in interceptions last season. Only one member of that unit is gone, Fred Bryant. Returning are seniors Marvin Ham, Vincenr Miller, George Brown, Eric York, Che Snelling, Michael Thomas and T.T. Acklin will be available. With Robert Singleton and Delmar Visor, the Thorobreds without question have a very talented secondary.

The linebacker position has only one true starter returning and that is Tony Mitchell. Three others played sparingly, Aaron Dishman, Craig Chambers and Kelsey Hopson. The staff feels that a healthy Adrian Brunson and Santiba Weaver will provide the needed support and depth.

The defensive line will be led by senior Isiah Long and Dennis Baker. Some additional support will come from Clyde Wilkens, Oliver Stokes, Todd Turner, and Harlan Porter.

Maurice "Mo" Hunt
Head Football Coach

Louis Coleman
Offensive Receivers/Quarterbacks

Stokely Miller Linebackers

Samuel Smith
Offensive Line

Jerry Reese
Defensive Line

Oscar Downs
Punters/Kickers

Alonzo Johnson
Running Backs

Ricky Jones
Defensive Coordinator

On October 8, 1994, the Thorobred football team traveled to Wilberforce, Ohio to take on the Central State University Marauders on their homecoming. Shown in the photos is Vincent Miller, no. 21, playing tight man to man coverage on the CSU receiver.

President Smith is addressing the crowd during half-time of the football game.

Above: Senior Marvin Ham making the play on the sideline for the Thorobreds.

Left: Seniors Che Snelling and George Brown are in pursuit of Bulldog player late in the game.

Thorobred Football

The Thorobred Defense backed deep into its own territory.

Another shot of the defense deep in their own territory.

Thorobred Basketball

The Thorobreds return five starters from a team that finished 8-19 overall and 6-12 in the GLVC in 1993-1994. The Breds lost in overtime and lost very close, heartbreaking games early in the season last year that could have made a difference for a team that had five starters who had never played together before.

Those same starters return for the 1994-95 season with high hopes and a year of playing together under their belts. The return of the team's leading scorer, Michael Douglas, Davey Wright, Walter Evans, Eric Dunigan, and Jessie Brooks will give the Breds experience in the back court and under the basket.

The Breds also have a good supporting cast of players returning due to playing time received last year, which Head Coach William Graham feels will help this year's team. "We had the opportunity to play a lot of players who gained valuable experience last season," says Graham. "Along with the five starters returning and help from some recruits, we are looking towards a successful season," said Graham.

The Breds' schedule is as tough as ever with Southern Indiana, who played in the NCAA Division II Championship game, and ranked number one in the GLVC pre-season poll, along with always-rough Kentucky Wesleyan, Sr. Joseph, and Indianapolis. These teams are returning some pretty good players, and it should make for an exciting and competitive schedule.

The recruiting class is the tallest in recent years and they have already impressed Graham. He feels all of them will make a positive contribution to the program. The Breds have been picked to finish 9th in the GLVC which Coach Graham will be a motivating factor for his team to win.

The Breds always go into the season feeling that they can win it all. That philosophy comes from Graham, and this year is no different.

Coach William H. Graham, Jr.

William Graham, Jr., coming to Kentucky State first as a student-athlete, then as an assistant coach, began his third stop in 1989 as the Thorobred's head men's basketball coach.

Graham was a member of KSU's NAIA national championship teams of 1971 and 1972, a KSU assistant coach from 1976 to 1978, and named head coach in 1989. He has worked hard to instill the same mental attitude that's required to return KSU to its championship form.

During his playing days, the soft spoken senior captain averaged 13.2 ppg and 16.4 rpg for the Thorobreds. Upon graduation, he was drafted by the Phoenix Suns of the NBA and the Denver Rockets of the ABA. He was the last player cut by the Suns in 1971, but went on to play professionally over seas in the European League.

Coach Graham had coached at Point Park College and at Alabama State before coming to Kentucky State University. Graham is beginning his 23rd season of coaching, his 7th in the top spot, in charge of the Breds fortunes.

The Kentucky State University Athletic Hall of Fame inductee is married to the former Lillian Foster. They have two daughters, Erica and Courtney, and one son, William III.

The Senior class of 1995 (back row), Eric Dunigan, Walter Evans, William Sherrod, Elgin Chavous. (front row) Jamar Hocker and Davey Wright.

Top Left and Right: The Thorobreds are in action against the Mighty Oaks from Oakland City, Indiana. It was the up-tempo offensive and high intensity traps that sealed victory for the Breds.
 Right: A Bred is raking it to the hole against Lewis.
 Above: Walter is pulling up for two.

Thorobrette Basketball

The Brettes finished the 1993-94 season with a 3-24 record overall and were 0-18 in the GLVC, but listening to second year coach Antonio Davis talk about the current Thorobrette roster you get the feeling that things are going to change and in a very big way. "I feel very confident about this year's team chances for a successful season," Davis says. "The fans will enjoy this team, we will play pressure defense to force turnovers and run a wide open offensive attack."

A solid recruiting effort during the off season and a second organizational approach established last year has coach Davis feeling that the foundation has been laid for this coming season.

The strength of this year's team will be the guard position even though the Brettes are strong inside with seven returning letterwinners who showed significant improvement late during last season.

Davis will build the Thorobrettes around 6'2 senior Yolandra Jones, who averaged 10.3 ppg and 7.6 rebounds last season. Jones, also set a GLVC game rebounding record when she pulled down 25 against Ashland. Leslie Gates, who will be moved to a guard position, Shakaria Charley and Valerie West, who sat out last season, will return in the KSU backcourt.

Sophomore transfer Danielle Ruffin, a 6'0 post player, could be an immediate impact player on the inside. Two other transfers, Eracha Woods and Sandy Higgins will be impact players for the Brettes. Other players to keep an eye on are Mia Williams and LaToya Williams.

Coach Antonio Davis

Antonio Davis, a native of Sunbury, North Carolina, will be entering his second year as menror of the women's basketball/volleyball programs. He is a graduate of Livingstone College where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree in History in 1988 and North Carolina A & T State University where he received a Master of Science degree in History Secondary Education in 1991.

Davis, a former All-American performer in basketball at Livingstone College in 1983, has received numerous honors, during his collegiate playing days.

Davis came to Kentucky State University from Livingstone College where he served as Assistant Men's Basketball Coach during the 1992-1993 season and Head Women's Basketball Coach from 1989 to 1991. He was also Head Women's Basketball Coach at Morristown College during the 1987-1988 season.

Davis is married to the former Ms. Nichelle Becton.

This track and cross country season saw the beginning of a coaching era here at Kentucky State University. William D. Miller was selected as the head coach for the program. He is a native of New York, receive his bachelor's and master's degrees in communication from Southern University.

Miller's goals are to make this school known for it's track program and to go to the NCAA and on to the highest level. Looking at the pictures you can see the men and women of the track and cross country programs, then the group photo, and finally you can see the cross country team this past fall in practice.

The 1994 Volleyball team was a very experienced team with veterans like Jennifer Evans and Contessa Gillis leading the way. Coach Antonio Davis feels that with help of his new assistant coach, Shemaria Smith, that they can establish a foundation for respectability within the ranks of college basketball and volleyball.

The members of the tennis team photographed above are Chad Wallace, Jay Collins, and Hilton Isable. This year will be a new and challenging one for the team. They return five solid lettermen from last year's team and has its goals on being competitive in conference play this year. First-year coach Vaughn Little is really excited about his assignment and the returning veterans.

Thorobred Express Marching Band

Top: The band is marching in downtown Frankfort during the homecoming parade.

Above: The band is keeping the crowd entertained during the homecoming football game.

Right: Senior Tony McKissick plays in his last homecoming half-time show.

Top: Head drum major, Brian Hale, is getting set to lead the marching band onto the field for the half-time show.

Middle: K-tette Lori Lindsey is highstepping it onto the field.

Bottom: Some former K-rettes are there in support at half-time.

Thorobred Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders posing before the homecoming football game.

Above: Mary's hair keeps flying into her eyes on this windy day.

Left: These guys are showing their acrobatic skills before the game.

Thorobred Cheerleaders

Left: The 1994-1995 Thorobred Cheerleaders pictured here without their coach Mr. Kim Goodloe.

Below: The Thorobred is a crowd favorite and always takes time to speak to the kids.

NAACP

Founded in 1909, the NAACP seeks to improve the political, educational, social, and economic status of Blacks and other minorities, to eliminate racial prejudice, and to keep the public aware of the adverse effects of racial discrimination. The organization as a whole is very active in voter registration and modernization.

Pictured above are the campus officers: Cory Brown, President; Dylicia McGhee, Secretary; Angela Holmes, 1st Vice-President; Calvin Wilson, Treasurer. Schnell Reed the 2nd Vice-President was unavailable for the picture.

Love Notes

The Love Notes serve as the little sisters to the brothers of Kappa Kappa Psi. The ladies are members of the Kentucky State University Marching Band and help the band whenever needed. Pictured to the right are members: Cassandra Hodges, Tish'chara Urusery, and LaChrista Bowman.

Alpha Angels

The Alpha Angels at Kentucky State University are very active in the community and work with the men of Alpha Phi Alpha whenever possible. They recently had two young ladies join their social club this spring semester of 1995. Pictured to the left are members: Tiaa Harrison, Tara Norals, Natosha Massey, Kiesha Gray, Janeisha Finch, Edith Howard, and Trina Richardson.

Golden Girls

At half-time of the mens' basketball games, it was show-time for these young ladies. These ladies are known as the Golden Girls and they perform various hip-hop dance routines at select home basketball games. The members of this year's group pictured to the left are: Valerie Ford, Cassandra Hodges, Arvella Juluke, and Tiaa Harrison.

Expect

to lead

At Kentucky State University we have over 500 full-time faculty and staff members. There are many ethnic groups represented in this number with 50.1% of our faculty and staff members being females, and 49.9% being males. Of our professors here 58 have been tenured, 41 have not been tenured, and 23 are not on a tenure track. There is 61.5% of our faculty that has a terminal degree. Our instructors are equipped and prepared and they always are expected to lead.

FACULTY

Mrs. Kathy Peale is taking a break from all of her alumni work.

Hugette Birkhead
Aquisitions
Vaughn Blade
University Police
Kathleen Butler
Blazer Library

Angelina Carter
Institutional Advancement
Jason Chapman
University Police
Laura Cullen
Student Publications

Above: Housing Director Vaughn Little is in control of the situation.

Left: Barry Johnson and Governor Jones after the Miki Howard and Bobby Blue Bland concerts.

Bottom Left: Dr. Greenland has the holiday spirit.

Convocations

The American dictionary defines a convocation as a formal gathering and we are very blessed to have several on our campus. President Smith is shown to the right addressing the convocation audience before the guest speaker takes center stage.

The speaker for the Martin Luther King Convocation was Donna Bradley-Morton. She is shown above and to the left as she addresses the Kentucky State University audience.

The members of the show choir are shown here performing at one of the convocations. Photographed below are Steven McClain, Nathaniel Thompson, Scott Mitchell, and some more members performing songs from the early days of Motown.

Barb Sharp is glad she come to cafeteria for lunch.

Right: Senator Gerald Neal visited the university shown here with Mr. Leroy Smith in the background. Senaror Neal is a Kentucky State Alumnus.

Below: Coach Sam Smith is cooking some ribs at last years fun fest.

Nurse Mary Fields
Berry White
Dr. Steven Gale
Endowed Chair
William Graham
Athletics

Tony Hardin
Student Life
Dr. Lee C. Harris
Nursing
Tracy Hunter
Blazer Library

John Martin
Blazer Library
Ken Miller
Institutional Advancement
Randy Oliver
Institutional Advancement

Dr. Dinker Patel
Behavioral & Social Sciences
Nick Petit English
Mike Reese
Student Life

Yvette Silverman
OPM
Carson Smith
Office of Policy & Management
Jane Sparks
Student Life

Gina Strivers
Literature & Languages
Sheila Stuckey
Collection & Development Lab
David Taylor
Fiscal Policy

Reggie Thomas
University Counsel
Dr. Leola Travis
Advisor to President

Miki Howard is trying to get Governor Jones into the act.

A student catches President Smith in front of the Circle K table.

Senior Laroyia Griffith can't make up her mind as to which dessert she wants to eat.

Richard Taylor is ready to stop serving the ice cream and get his own.

Top: Mr. KSU sends a shout out to all of his fraternity brothers world-wide while working the SGA display table.

Middle: Dr. Jiang and Mr. Johnson are definitely enjoying themselves.

Bottom: This gentleman is inquiring at the social work display table.

Top: Tanika is waiting for someone else to come get some ice cream.

Middle: These students are very interested in the student life department display table.

Bottom: President Smith is taking time out of her busy schedule to see the various university department and club display tables.

Expect

someone to remember

It was once said that these are the best days of life, and the people met here will be the ones remembered throughout. Kentucky State University is the home of many ethnic groups and nationalities which makes it a special place to students who have come and gone to their careers.

Hopefully one day we will be alumni of this great university and then pick up this book and still expect someone to remember.

STUDENTS

Seniors

Rodney Avery
Helena, Arkansas
Ida Barbee
Adairville, Kentucky
Earlene, Bedford
Newport, Kentucky

David Bradley
Indianapolis, Indiana
Ronika Coleman
Indianapolis, Indiana
Teremicka Cox
Indianapolis, Indiana

Nicole Crowe
Indianapolis, Indiana
Kay Dalton
Dayton, Ohio
Gwen Drake
Chicago, Illinois

Maronica Freed
Cincinnati, Ohio
Angelle Greene
Cincinnati, Ohio
Latoyia Griffith
Lexington, Kentucky

Leslie Gates
Cleveland, Ohio
Marvin Ham
Toledo, Ohio
Dawna Holt
Louisville, Kentucky

Hilton Isable
Bowling Green, Kentucky
Sherrice Jackson
Louisville, Kentucky
Voleska Lomax
Cincinnati, Ohio

Dylicia McGhee
Cincinnati, Ohio
Gwen Murff
Detroit, Michigan
Tisha Norman
Cleveland, Ohio

Jeanessa Payne
Louisville, Kentucky
David Pelichet
Detroit, Michigan
Washita Powell
Covington, Kentucky

Senior Omar Dillard is a marketing major who transferred to Kentucky State from Kansas State. He was a three year letterman in football for the Thorobreds and serves as polemarch of the Alpha Upsilon Chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Incorporated.

Denise Richardson
Indianapolis, Indiana
Shawanne Roddy
Columbus, Ohio
Yolanda Rogers
Indianapolis, Indiana

Christopher Sanders
Toledo, Ohio
Vada Shelton
Somerset, Kentucky
Dena Sullivan
Indianapolis, Indiana

Seniors Marvin Ham and Chris Sanders hanging outside of the student center with Trevia Jeffries.

Kent Sutton
Tulsa, Oklahoma
Kim Wallace
Lexington, Kentucky
Dwayne Zimmerman
Detroit, Michigan

CONGRATULATIONS GRADS

Lashonda Alderman
Washington, D.C.
Tiffany Anthony
Frankfort, Kentucky
Nekiya Baker
Chicago, Illinois

James Barber
Hopkinsville, Kentucky
Keila Barnes
Detroit, Michigan
Joy Becker
Louisville, Kentucky

Hope Bixler
Lawrenceburg, Kentucky
Hope Bixon
Louisville, Kentucky
Lynn Blacketer
Frankfort, Kentucky

Rolanda Bolen
Indianapolis, Indiana
Tyrie Buchanan
Gary, Indiana
Kenneth Buckner
Cincinnati, Ohio

Herb Burt
Detroit, Michigan
Darrin Cain
Louisville, Kentucky
Rolando Calhoun
Chicago, Illinois

Patricia Cannon
Monterey, Kentucky
Marissa Clark
Indianapolis, Indiana
Nancy Clark
Cincinnati, Ohio

Tomie Colbert
 Tulsa, Oklahoma
Yolanda Cole
 Indianapolis, Indiana
Michelle Coleman
 Chicago, Illinois

Marcus Crenshaw
 Glasgow, Kentucky
Freda Davis
 Cincinnati, Ohio
Erica Dupree
 Cleveland, Ohio

Stephanie Esters
 Louisville, Kentucky
David Haigler
 Frankfort, Kentucky
Dorothea Haigler
 Frankfort, Kentucky

Above: Quincy and his homie are getting their drink on in the park.

Right: Shannon Starks and Angelle Greene are supporting the football team.

Bottom Right: This Bo knows what time it is.

Below: Silois Shead and her son are on their way home.

Top Left: Osman takes a nap after a long day of classes.
Left: Jai Gilliam and Treva Jeffries wave from the junior class float during the homecoming parade.

Bottom Left: Treva and Jamila take time to pose for a picture after the coronation.

Below: Gwen, Tammy, and Arla are getting ready to kick it on the weekend.

Above: The annual Christmas breakfast is being served in the cafeteria.

Angela Holmes
 Indianapolis, Indiana
Shannon Howard
 Cincinnati, Ohio
Renita Hudson
 Louisville, Kentucky

Damon Hughes
 Milwaukee, Wisconsin
Alta Jacobs
 Frankfort, Kentucky
Eddie Jones
 Frankfort, Kentucky

Vonda Kennedy
 Winchester, Kentucky
Nona Lindsey
 Frankfort, Kentucky
Carlos Logan
 Lexington, Kentucky

J.T. Love
Chicago, Illinois
Lajetta McDowney
Washington, D.C.
Steve McFayden
Lexington, Kentucky

Shauna McGhee
Cleveland, Ohio
Terrietta McNary
Frankfort, Kentucky
Tiffany Montgomery
Louisville, Kentucky

Tiara Norris
Lexington, Kentucky
Alesia Owens
Lexington, Kentucky
Fernando Patterson
Paris, Kentucky

Joy Pierson
 Chicago, Illinois
Tanika Price
 Chicago, Illinois
Susan Railey
 Springfield, Kentucky

Tulane Reese
 Covington, Kentucky
Tinika Rodgers
 Chicago, Illinois
Lamonya Sheppard
 Hopkinsville, Kentucky

Eric Simmons
 Detroit, Michigan
Stephanie Smith
 Frankfort, Kentucky
Kerel Stallings
 Cincinnati, Ohio

Steve Strubbs
 Georgetown, Kentucky
Stephen Tate
 Detroit, Michigan
Cassandra Thomas
 Fairfield, Alabama

Juaacklyn Thorne
 Detroit, Michigan
Damon Turner
 Louisville, Kentucky
Todd Turner
 Frankfort, Kentucky

Delmar Visor
 Aurora, Illinois
Reggie Visor
 Aurora, Illinois
Andrea Wallace
 Lexington, Kentucky

Chad Wallace
Georgetown, Kentucky
Desirre Washington
Louisville, Kentucky
Wayne Wigginton
Louisville, Kentucky

Lovell Wilkerson
Cincinnati, Ohio
Marcus Williams
Indianapolis, Indiana
Stephanie Williams
Indianapolis, Indiana

Valerie Williams
Louisville, Kentucky
Calvin Wilson
Louisville, Kentucky
Charisse Young
Georgetown, Kentucky

Dewayne Zimmerman
 Detroit, Michigan

Left: Students hanging out on the yard.

Message from the Editor

What did you expect? For several years, the annual Thorobred was issued the fall after the year for which it was compiled. Being the editor of the 1994-1995 edition, I wanted to be a trendsetter by issuing the Thorobred at the end of the current year. This yearbook was a challenge for me because I had been very short-staffed, and had to make numerous sacrifices for time. The completion of this book would not have been possible without the help of the following people: Laura Cullen, Calvin Wilson, Tara Norals, Cassandra Hodges, Tiaa Harrison, Shannon Winston, Chad Wallace, Kim Bunton, Carla Canada, Ron Braden, David Justice, David Brown, and each of the deans and chairpersons on this campus. If there is anyone that I forgot to thank, blame it on my head; not my heart. I hope that you've enjoyed it at KSU!

Student Publications

The members of the 1994-95 Student Publications Staff were: Cory Brown, Don Buckler, Frank Cantrell, Marcus Crenshaw, Freda Davis, Charles Dorsey, Marvin Franklin, Rodney Gary, Aretina Hamilton, Tias Harrison, Cassandra Hodges, Hilton Isable, Kentry Jones, Dylcia McGhee, Tara Norals, Joy Pierson, Craig Richards, Toyya Thomas, Erick Thompson, Joseph Walker, Marcus Williams, and Calvin Wilson.

Above: Newspaper Editor, Calvin Wilson, is hard at work trying to make his next deadline.

Left: Student Publications Advisor Laura Cullen